

Q3 STAFF MENTAL HEALTH

Ottawa-Carleton District School Board
Building Brighter Futures Together @OCDSB

Q3 What are some important priorities for the OCDSB to focus on for the next four years?

Teacher mental health Overloading the needs in classrooms is causing teacher burnout.

Elementary Staff

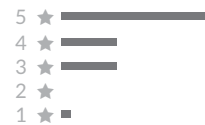

4.1 ★★★★★ (19)

More support for mental health in staff

Elementary Staff

4.0 ★★★★★ (24)

Staff Well-Being Continued focus needed - the demands of the job are taking a toll on people more than ever before

Secondary Staff

4.0 ★★★★★ (18)

Mental Health The board takes physical injuries much more seriously than mental illness, there were many more supports for physical injuries like in home teachers

Students Grades 9 to 12

4.0 ★★★★★ (15)

Teacher well being and the culture within our schools

Elementary Staff

4.0 ★★★★★ (13)

Ongoing support for Teacher mental health. It is tough job and there are many parents who treat teachers badly rather than addressing their child's behaviours and outburst.

Elementary Parents and Guardians - 2

3.7  (17 )

They are there almost everyday and spend the majority of there child and teen years With them so having loving supporting and caring people Around them is very important

Students Grades 9 to 12

3.7  (16 )

Staff Well Being Adults are getting permanently unwell

Secondary Staff

3.7  (7 )

Staff mental health. We need educators feel supported and understand, they to feel as though they have easy access to mental health professionals without stigma.
